Would You Not Make Some Little Sacrifice for the Sake of Owning Your Own Home?

On the corner of Hornor avenue and Seventh street, in the high school block, you can buy a strictly modern home of six large rooms, attic, full cemented basement under the entire house, in a cement block foundation and the walls are all above the ground and dry. The house has a garage with cemented floor and water connections and a paved driveway to the street from the house. The floor and side walls of the bath room are made of white cement suitable for shower bath in addition to the tub. This bath has a built in linen closet nine feet high, five feet wide and two feet deep. Also has a medicine cabinet two by four feet with a beveled plate mirror for the door. Has overhead and side wall electric light. door. Has overhead and side wall electric lights. Living room is twenty-five by fourteen feet with French doors leading directly into a large dining room, all with beautiful hardwood finish, and the kitchen sidewalls are finished in Keen cement and can be washed with water as easily as your sidewalk, and there is a built in kitchen cabinet, very convenient. The lot has a frontage of thirty-nine feet and on the west line a depth of sixty-seven feet and across the back it is forty-six feet and on the east side back to the beginning it is eighty-one feet with more than two thousand square feet in the lot and if you do not want a garden there is room enough on Seventh street to build another house, which would make the property a fine investment from an income standpoint. The house has a back porch and a sleeping porch with a fine view. All the bed chambers have plenty of closet room and one of them has two closets, one cedar lined, and the house has sub floors and is storm sheeted, then paper, and then weather-boarding, and the weather-boarding being red cedar it is vermin proof. The electric lighting is of the semi-indirect type with handsome glassware, and the price is lower than has recently been paid for property not as desirable in the same block. If you really want a home and know good construction when you see it, come and have a look at this property. It will be finished within a week or two.
